

SUPPORT WSU WITH A Bequest

Would you like to pass your values to the next generation of Cougs?

Would you like to potentially avoid state and federal estate taxes?

Would you like to leave a lasting legacy and shape the future for Cougar students, researchers, and programs beyond your lifetime?

If you answered yes to any or all of these questions, you may want to consider making a bequest through your will, revocable living trust, or beneficiary designations.

Contact the Gift Planning Office for bequest language and to learn how you can make a lasting legacy.

📞 509-335-7883

✉ gpoffice@wsu.edu

🌐 foundation.wsu.edu/bequest

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY
FOUNDATION

.....

Glenn Leitz '52 farmed in Fairfield, Washington. He recently gifted his farmland through his estate to WSU. Through the Land Legacy program, WSU agreed to keep Glen's land and use the farming income to support crop and soil science research. Glenn believed research is what keeps Washington agriculture competitive in global markets, and he was adamant farmers need institutions like WSU to carry out and disseminate that research.

A Walk Through Campus / Rachel Jones WSU STUDENT

"A landscape drawing of my favorite walk through campus, along the back side of Bryan Clock Tower."